MCCSA provides assistance to deliverable fuel users

Macomb County, Mich. — Macomb County Community Services Agency has funds available to provide deliverable fuel to low-income residents of Macomb County. During these cold winter months, Macomb County Community Services Agency (MCCSA) wants to make sure deliverable fuel customers stay warm in their homes and encourages those who might be eligible to contact their Community Action Center.

The funds are available to residents who meet income guidelines and demonstrate a need for deliverable fuel (For example: A family of four whose yearly income is under $27,600 may qualify.) All applicants must provide proof of household members and total household income. Eligible fuels include fuel oil, propane, wood and coal.

Interested individuals should contact their Community Action Center for more information and to make an appointment.
